The Clark County School District (CCSD) overall plan for the GEAR UP funding includes academic enrichment strategies, professional development components, parent involvement, tutoring/mentoring, program support systems, data collection/evaluation, and program oversight by the principals at each school site. CCSD has selected six middle schools to receive its GEAR UP program funding: James Cashman, Roy W. Martin, William E. Orr, J.D. Smith, Ed Von Tobel, Charles I. West-Edison Junior Academy Middle Schools. They have identified key, school-based team members to be directly involved with planning, coordinating, and facilitating GEAR UP activities at their schools. And each school developed measurable objectives and activities to support state-defined goals in this first, important year of the program.
